HBRG activities and benefits

As a member of HBRG

You will benefit from an annual Newsletter 'The Highland Naturalist';

a shorter 'Autumn Update';
a website which is frequently updated;
email contacts and an on-line forum;
two meetings, spring and autumn, each year.

Recording wildlife

HBRG's recording activities assemble data on Highland wildlife;

involve field trips;
stimulate and encourage public interest and involvement in wildlife;
facilitate members' interests.

Advice and assistance

HBRG can provide advice on wildlife resources (people, books and websites);

assistance with identification from specimens or photographs;
assistance with training in wildlife recording from a wide range of local specialists;
assistance with travel expenses for recording trips.

Publishing our work

HBRG publishes the results of our work in 'The Highland Naturalist'; in special wildlife atlases.

The record database

HBRG makes your records available to anyone with a need for wildlife data (naturalists, scientists, planners) to assist their work; on the Highland taxon database locally and on the Internet on the NBN Gateway.

Funding

HBRG can access grant aid

from local and national funding sources.

Partnerships

HBRG works with other organisations by membership of the Highland Biodiversity Forum; transferring data to and from National Recording Schemes.
